High Speed Internet & Firewalls

MicroAge & Chatham Internet Access (CIAccess).

CIAccess provides Internet for Business, from dial-up to DSL & High Speed Wireless.

MicroAge Installed.

The benefit of acquiring your DSL from CIAccess is that you get qualified MicroAge technicians to install the service. This means that you get the right installation, with consultation for your business needs. MicroAge can help you decide the quality of service, how to share your Internet link and implement the proper firewall protection.

Protect your Business.

Now that you have high-speed access, you will want to protect your business. Not only from unwanted intruders, but from viruses and improper usage by employees.

What about Web Surfing?

Some companies should implement a web-surfing agreement with their employees. MicroAge can help you with establishing the do's and don'ts of Internet usage.

Access Control.

There are Internet firewalls available that can block unwanted emails before they get to your business. Some are flexible to allow control where your employees surf, how much and how often. You want your Internet available as a productivity resource, not a productivity distraction.

What about remote locations?

With high-speed DSL Internet access, you may wish to connect your office to another location via an encrypted Virtual Private Network (VPN). Or, you can now use Terminal Services to have speedy access to your business applications from home or when you are away from the office.
